TOP
TRENDS
2024

Always choose compostable (not biodegradable) containers and cutlery. Compostable products are made from plant-based ingredients. Biodegradable products may not break down fully, causing pollution. Consider moving away from single use plastic sachets of sauces and condiments. Communicate waste prevention and recycling initiatives to festival-goers so they know they're supporting sustainable businesses.

Sustainability at Events and Festivals

Festivals and Outdoor events are challenging environments for sustainable practices, however preparation goes a long way and consumers have sustainability at the forefront of their concerns and will actively look for the best environmentally conscious offerings.
